Dear Western Scaffold Pty Ltd

Who is Australia's Most Professional Builder?

We are thrilled to announce that Porter Davis Homes has been awarded the highest industry accolade for outstanding professionalism in the building sector.

At the Housing Industry Association's (HIA) national awards ceremony held on Friday 21 May at the Gold Coast Convention and Exhibition Centre, we received Australia's Most Professional Builder Award (2010) for the third time. There is no higher recognition for our industry.

The award is highly sought-after in the industry and is judged by practicing building professionals on a company's business and financial management practices, quality, innovation, and most importantly, its customer service.

The last 12 months has presented us with a challenging market, but our team work and commitment to our clients has resulted in the business continuing to grow and succeed.

We believe our success stems from our holistic dedication to the industry, our employees and trades, our supplier relationships, and our strategy to continually improve our practices.

We recognise that winning this year's award would not be possible without the ongoing support of our trades and suppliers and for this we would like to take the opportunity to say thank you. We are proud to be raising the bar right across the industry with your support.

Being recognised and awarded by the HIA for our hard work is both rewarding and inspiring, and we hope to continue building dream homes for our clients with you.

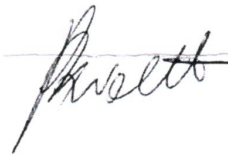

Best wishes,
